

September 1, 2007

Dear Chef,

Autumn approaches! School is starting, the nights are growing cooler. It's time once again for Putting Green's Grill 'n Golf Grilling Competition and Community Picnic. Last year's event was a culinary success with tasty meats and local picnic fixings. The variety of grilled morsels was a taste treat and the potato salad was mouth watering!

We'd like to invite you, once again, to participate in this family day at Putting Green Park on Sunday, September 23. Here is your chance to go down in history as New Ulm's finest Grillmeister, looked up to with envy by your chef peers and honored by your community.

Last year's winners, Johnny Heymann and John Gag, were the envy of all! Join in the fun of competition, support local food growers and enjoy a round or two of mini-golf. This community picnic will feature your delectable grilled meat (beef, pork, chicken, turkey, veggie or ????) along with other local food picnic fixings.

Join area chefs in this competition and support the educational mission of Putting Green. Here's a chance to advertise your cooking prowess to the community with this fun opportunity! Your entrance fee? You provide a taste of your delectable grilled meat choice on the end of a toothpick to the people who come. You'll enjoy music, great food, mini-golf, educational booths and the chance to compete for the prestigious Grillmeister Award of Excellence.

Here are the Rules:

1. One style or type of meat.
2. You must name your choice. (Be creative.)
3. All grilled meats must be prepared on site. (Marinating may be done offsite prior to the start of the contest.)
4. Know the origin of your ingredients and the distance it had to travel to be part of your burger. (More points for creativity and for 'closer to home' and natural ingredients.)
5. Make sample sizes, served on a toothpick, enough to serve approx. 100 people.
6. Contestants must supply the cooking surface of their choice.
7. You may decorate your cooking area however you like. (More points.)
8. Grilled meat and cooking area will be judged on Creativity and Taste. (Along with # 4.)
9. Contest will begin at 11:30am with serving to start at noon.
10. Last but not least-----a trophy (and great honor) will be awarded to New Ulm's Finest Grillmeister! *Please post our poster at your business place-thanks!

Return the bottom portion of this letter by September 15 or email information:

Putting Green Grill 'n Golf, PO Box 91, New Ulm, MN 56073

Yes, Sign me up for the 1st Annual ProAm Grill n'Golf Tournament!!

Name: Chef _____ Telephone # _____

Email: _____